Better Insurance By Design

About ARMR.Network

ARMR.Network is a wholesale environmental insurance brokerage firm that also serves as an out sourced Environmental Resource Group for insurance agents and brokers. Our exceptionally qualified insurance brokers have placed insurance on some of the most complex environmental risks in the world, including the cleanup of Chernobyl and insurance wrap-ups for nuclear weapons plants in the US. Our clients include the US EPA, the US Army, the US Air Force, and the US Justice Department in addition to thousands of other public and private organizations. We co-authored the CPCU and ARM texts on environmental insurance and we were also major contributors to the professional liability loss prevention chapter on environmental and mold risks for the Independent Insurance Agents and Brokers of America.

No matter how routine or complex the risk, ARMR.Network has the experience and knowledge to help solve any environmental risk management challenge on a global basis.

The need for environmental insurance has never been greater. The introduction of universal exclusions for mold and bacteria related losses has increased the need for specially modified environmental insurance. ARMR.Network is the industry leader in mold insurance products.
